PRIVILEGED AND CONFIDENTIAL

MEMORANDUM

TO: Chief School Administrators
Boards of Education

RE: Follow up Inquiries Regarding Student Data Privacy and Security

Please allow this memorandum to serve as a follow up to our memorandum dated August 4, 2014 regarding the guidance issued by the New York State Education Department ("NYSED") relative to the obligation of educational agencies¹ to protect student data pursuant to Education Law §2-d.² This memorandum addresses the following inquires:

1. Is the board of education obligated to adopt by resolution a Parents' Bill of Rights for data privacy and security?

Answer: Although Education Law §2-d does not expressly address the issue of whether a board of education must adopt the Parents' Bill of Rights, it is our recommendation that the board of education adopt such a the Bill of Rights by resolution because the action is within the board's responsibility for the management and control of the educational affairs of the school district. Education Law § 1709(3). Further, although the minimum requirements of the Bill of Rights are dictated by statute, the board of education has discretion to expand the rights, as authorized by statute. As such, we recommend the board of education adopt the Parents' Bill of Rights for data privacy and security by resolution. We have prepared a sample resolution for your consideration, a copy of which is attached.

2. Is the board of education required to supplement the Parents' Bill of Rights for data privacy and security with supplemental third party contractor information?

Answer: Education Law §2-d(c) states that the Parents' Bill of Rights for data privacy and security shall include supplemental information for each contract an educational agency enters into with a third party contractor where the third party contractor receives student data and/or teacher or principal data. The statute then sets forth a list of items that must be included in the supplemental information. We have provided our clients with a sample Bill of Rights that tracks this statutory language. However, we are aware of a different interpretation of the statute that would require a school district to update the Parents' Bill of Rights for data privacy and security with supplemental information about each third party contractor that receives student data and/or teacher or principal data. The supplemental data would have to be updated and managed by the school district on an ongoing basis. We have been in contact with NYSED in an attempt to dissuade policy makers from adopting this interpretation when it issues regulations as it would be administratively unwieldy. We recommend our clients adopt the Bill of Rights we have provided and await further clarification from NYSED on this issue, either through further guidance or promulgation of regulations.

3. Are all school district consultants/vendors who may come into contact with personally identifiable information from student records subject to the requirements of Education Law §2-d?

Answer: Education Law §2-d(k) defines the term "Third Party Contractor" as a person or entity that receives student, teacher or principal data pursuant to a contract or other written agreement for purposes of providing services to an educational agency. This section provides the following non-exhaustive list of the types of services covered: data management or storage services, conducting studies for or on behalf of such educational agency, or audit or evaluation of public funded programs.

It appears from this statutory language that references "data" and the examples of contracts listed therein, together with the inBloom controversy that apparently was behind its enactment, that the intended reach of the law are contracts with consultants and vendors whose contracts with a district relate directly to student, teacher and principal data. This interpretation would exclude contracts with consultants and vendors that may have access to student records in the course of performing under their contract, but do not directly contract with the school district for the receipt of student data, e.g., special education related service providers and certain professional third party vendors. However, since the legislation was enacted as part of the Governor's budget bill, there is no legislative history that sheds light on this significant ambiguity. We anticipate that the regulations to be developed by the NYSED may address this issue. Pending further guidance or issuance of regulations from NYSED, we are recommending that school districts include the data privacy and security provisions and Parents' Bill of Rights in all contracts entered into with third party contractors who receive student or teacher/principal data pursuant to a contract which directly involves the storage, analysis, manipulation, or transmission of such data. In the event that the legislation is ultimately interpreted more broadly, all applicable contracts may need to be amended to include the required elements.

We will continue to update you as additional information becomes available.
