

STOKES UNITES AGAINST BULLYING!

The students at Stokes Elementary school took a stand against bullying on October 9, 2013.

Both students and staff wore orange as a sign of UNITY.

Each student wrote a statement of affirmation on a “link” to build a chain of strength.

“I can stand up for myself,
“ I am brave,”
“ I can be a good friend,”

were some of the statements shared.

Today was a beginning of our commitment to be our “best self” each day. This means standing up to a bully and uniting together to care for one another!

Our UNITY chain was 497 links long and traveled the entire school building.
